REPRESENTATIVE ARMY OF THE PEOPLE.
CLARK WALKER, CHAIRMAN, Md., Oct. 7.

GENERAL ORDER NO. 108.—The attention of the officers and soldiers of the army of the Potomac
is called to General Order No. 130, war department, September 26th, 1862, prohibiting to the army
the president's proclamation of September 22.

A proclamation of such grave moment to the nation, officially communicated to the army, affords
the general commanding an opportunity of distinctly recalling the officers and soldiers under his command the relation borne by all persons in

The constitution confides to the civil authori-

On the morning of the 84, our company was ordered to march to the front of the battle of Gettysburg. On the morning of the 84, our company was ordered to march to the front of the battle of Gettysburg. On the morning of the 84, our company was ordered to march to the front of the battle of Gettysburg.

Our batteries replied, and for an hour or more heavy cannonading was kept up. At the expiration of that time two of the rebel guns were disabled.

their horses, and shortly after daylight their battery of seven guns was captured. Fortunate quittance soon occurred and the army was ordered to march on to the battle by the enemy. The Western sharpshooters, under Col. Barker, were ordered forward to the front of the line. At half past nine they met the three quarters of a mile advance of our line of battle, and opened a rapid fire of grape and canister. Immediately a murderous fire was advanced on the line of skirmishers, who slowly began to give ground. The enemy's fire was very effective. The woods seemed alive with rebels, and it seemed impossible for this gallant regiment to stand against such a deadly fire. Over three companies of a mile on the open ground which interested between them and our temporary works of defense. In a few minutes the rebels were within 100 yards. Our batteries opened a destructive fire on the exposed ranks of the rebels, mowing them down. The rebels were driven back, but with unrelenting fury they pushed forward and recaptured the line of infantry and captured a small fortification in which the battery of the 10th Iowa was stationed. A temporary panic reached our men, and the rebels once more marched into the stream of our ranks. The rebels were ordered on them, and our men, under the direction of a few courageous officers, and stimulated by the example of the 10th Iowa, stood firm. The advance of the enemy was checked. They wavered, and then fell back. The 10th Iowa was pushed forward and the rebels were destroyed into their ranks. The day was lost, and the enemy broke in full retreat. Our loss was comparatively small. The 10th Iowa lost 100 men, and the rest of the army less than a company. The rebels lost nearly twenty to one killed. Among the rebels killed and lost on the field were Brig. Gen. Johnson of Miss. and another colored commander a brigade, whose name was not known.

The enemy were commanded by Van Dorn, Price and Villedieu, giving their respective commands to the various divisions.

It is possible now to give a list of casualties. Our proportion of officers killed is very small. The rebels are believed to have lost 1000 men. We lost four thousand prisoners.
